The official Newsletter of the Award Winning

Northern Illinois Corvette Club

Hello Fellow Members!

June was a very active month for car shows and parades. NICC had their annual car show at Lou Bachrodt's Chevrolet. We had 72 cars in the show, and the weather was great. I want to thank all the volunteers that helped and a special thank you to Ken and Cindy Starzyk for organizing this year's show. The NICC members had a great showing of cars for the Leaf River Parade. We had 16 Corvettes in the parade. A few of the club members attended the Bloomington Gold Corvette show in Bloomington IL. The consensus of the few that attended, including myself, was it's not worth the trip and time to attend.

We have so many activities scheduled for the month of July that there is something for everybody to get involved in and enjoy your time with club members. Go to the NICC website 2024 Event Calendar and pick out the activities you want to do or get involved in. We always need volunteers to for planning and developing club activities such as:

July 2024

1. Parade-Winnebago, IL., July 4th
2. Cars & Coffee Car Show, July 6th
3. Smokin' Coops, July 9th
4. NICC Club Picnic, July 14th
5. Lake Summerset Pancake Breakfast & Car Show, July 20th non-sanctioned
6. Summer Run, Trip to Colorado, July 21 to 27th

The attendance at the July 3rd meeting was great. It's wonderful when we have more of the NICC

President's Corner

members present. That's when ideas come together and plan for new activities and projects. The club is always ready for activities and projects.

Put on your calendar the first Wednesday of the month and come to the NICC meeting and enjoy the time that we have at our monthly meetings.

Our club meetings are held at Sam's Ristorante, Rockford on the first Wednesday of the month. The newsletter and website publishes the schedule for meetings. I would enjoy seeing more members attend the membership meetings to add your voice to our decision making and to bring forth innovative ideas. Members are welcomed to attend the Board meeting. Guests are welcome to attend the social hour and membership meetings. Bring a Corvette enthusiast friend and have an enjoyable time.

Please do not hesitate to contact me if you have any questions or concerns for the club.

NICC Governor's Report

Submitted by Dale Samuelson, Governor, NICC

Our first NICC fundraiser/autocross was held June 29th and 30th in Columbus, WI. Thanks to all the workers that turned out for a very successful event. They included Ken & Cindy Starzyk, Jerry & Darlene Weaver, John Stupiec & Sherry Putman, Joe Hansen, Russ Schaefer, and Dale Samuelson. The event was run efficiently and we were done by 2:30 on Saturday and by 1:30 on Sunday. Worth over 45 drivers each day, NICC should make a considerable profit and we could not do it without your help.

You have two more chances to help NICC with our fundraisers. They are August 10th & 11th and Oct 19th & 20th, both in Crystal Lake, IL. Hope to see you there.

The 2025 NCCC Convention will be here before you know it. Here are a couple links for you to look at: <https://www.mwregion.com/convention2025.html> and <https://www.corvettesnccc.org/2025Convention/Convention2025.php>. NICC has volunteered to host the party on Tuesday night. We have a committee and are looking for ideas. The party theme is 60's and we are looking at a potential band. Do we want to have a dance contest? Costume contest? What do we do for decorations and table centerpieces? Any other ideas?

I have personally volunteered to chair the convention autocross. It will be held at the go kart track at Road America Raceway. We will need volunteers for staging and corner workers. This happens to be the same day that NICC is hosting the Tuesday night party, so that may be an issue. I hope everyone is considering attending the '25 convention.

That's all for now,

Dale Samuelson

Governor

NICC 2024 Let the Good Times Roll Car Show

Submitted by Ken & Cindy Starzyk Photos by Cindy Starzyk

NICC's fourth Let the Good Times Roll Car Show, in conjunction with our major sponsor, Lou Bachrodt Auto Mall in Cherry Valley brought in 72 registered vehicles plus many spectators. The weather was perfect. It was held on Saturday, June 15th. Our superb volunteers arrived early and deserve all the thanks and compliments in the world for all their hard work and support! Everyone enjoyed the great tunes of our own NICC member and DJ Greg Osen. He was extremely helpful with the implementation of the show and awarding of the trophies.

The two top winners were:

Spectator trophy – a 1967 Camaro

Judges' top choice – a 1950 Olds 88

We wish to express thanks to Tracy Beyer, Joe Luy and Charlie Hansmeyer at Bachrodt for being so very accommodating and supportive before and during this event! All proceeds from this car show plus the 50/50 raffle and our Veterans collection jar will be donated to the veterans and local charities by NICC.

Fifteen NICC Corvette Club members along with the volunteer judges (not related to NICC or Bachrodt in any way), stepped up and did a fantastic job every step of the way. Thanks again to all these volunteers who made this endeavor a great one for our veterans and charities!

Smokin Coop BBQ Pit Cruise Night June 2024

Submitted by Cindy Starzyk Photos by Cindy Starzyk

The most recent 2024 NICC Cruise Night was held on Monday, June 17th at Smokin' Coop BBQ on Rt. 20 in Rockford. It was well attended with 11 beautiful NICC Vettes. An extra Corvette parked with us and the owner seemed interested in joining our club after he spoke with a few of us. His license plate said Pennsylvania, so perhaps he has recently moved to the area. I think his Corvette was a 1960. It was red and white with black interior. Members socialized, ate great food and took a good look at Sherry Putnam's brand new, white and black 2022 Stingray, 2LT, Z51! The service was excellent, and the weather was perfect. Very few members left early. Most of us stayed to relax, mingle, laugh and catch up.

June Autocross Fundraiser

Submitted by Cindy Starzyk Photos by Cindy Starzyk

NICC's first Autocross Fundraiser held June 29-30 had many drivers competing. Our outstanding volunteers worked the "corners" in the parking lot of The Madison College Public Training Center on that Saturday and Sunday. Working the corners means you must call in errors or cones down on walkie-talkies and replace the cones on the racecourse. The temperature on Saturday got fairly high, however on Sunday, the weather was beautiful and comfortable all day. The various Corvette clubs mingled with each other, and everyone was very nice. All racers and volunteers appeared to be having a great time throughout the two days.

Sincere thanks goes out to Dale Samuelson for the amazing job he did as usual. His hard work creates substantial revenue for our club. His exceptional organizational skills make it an easy event to volunteer for and he moves the racing events along at a good pace. Gratitude also goes out to John Stupiec, Sherry Putnam, and Ken and Cindy Starzyk, who worked both days. Jerry and Darlene Weaver worked Saturday, and Russ Schaefer and Joe Hansen worked Sunday volunteering and supporting this event. Proceeds from autocross help significantly in achieving NICC's goals for its charities.

Thanks again to all the volunteers who made this endeavor a great one for our veterans and other charities!

What We Learnt From The Three-Way Battle Between The Corvette E-Ray And It's Italian Competition

BY Isacc Atienza for TopSpeed at <https://www.topspeed.com/corvette-e-ray-vs-ferrari-f8-vs-lamborghini-huracan/>

We know that the Chevy Corvette E-Ray is quick off the line, but find out just how much more capable it is when compared to Italy's finest

The first-ever Chevrolet Corvette E-Ray hybrid sportscar was unveiled with plenty of fanfare. While it does come with a dose of electrification, it wasn't enough to dilute the Corvette C8 recipe. Instead, it even enhanced it and made it a better sportscar in certain ways. The first electrified Corvette also happens to be the first all-wheel drive (AWD) model in the sportscar's lineage, and this results in some interesting results when pitting it against other more expensive Italian supercars, which in this instance came courtesy of Hagerty.

Image: Hagerty (YouTube)

Gearheads often raise their pitchforks when a vehicle has been given a dose of electrification since this usually leads to a diluted driving experience even if it means a more powerful yet more efficient car. The Corvette E-Ray still has the same 6.2-liter naturally-aspirated LT2 V-8 as the standard Stingray, but the addition of electric motors at the front axle increases the total output from 495 horsepower to 665 horsepower. This is enough for a claimed 0-60 mph time of 2.5 seconds and a quarter-mile time of 10.5 seconds, but the real-world results are actually better.

Image: Hagerty (YouTube) The Corvette E-Ray is competing against the 610-horsepower Lamborghini Huracan Evo Spyder rear-wheel drive (RWD) and the far more powerful 710-horsepower Ferrari F8 Tributo--both of which only have two-wheel traction. Off the line, the Chevrolet Corvette E-Ray claws onto the road immediately, with the front electric motors helping the Corvette E-Ray reach 60 mph in just 2.4 seconds--a tenth faster than Chevrolet claims. As for the other two? Well, both the Ferrari and Lamborghini were scrambling for traction--with the Huracan suffering the worst amount of wheelspin. As a result, the F8 Tributo hit 60 mph in 2.7 seconds while the Huracan Evo RWD did the same job in 3.5 seconds.

But the 0-60 mph time doesn't tell the whole story. Once hitting the quarter mile, the F8 Tributo narrows its gap with the Corvette E-Ray, because once it finds traction, its power and weight advantage over the Chevy is now at its advantage. The Corvette E-Ray reaches the quarter mile in 10.4 seconds at 129 mph, but while the Ferrari reaches the quarter mile 0.2 seconds later, it'll obliterate the Corvette E-Ray if the road was longer as it arrived with a top speed of 137 mph.

Image: Hagerty (YouTube)

Lastly, there is no changing the fact that the Huracan Evo will be the slowest even past the quarter mile. It reached the end of the strip in 11.1 seconds at 129 mph.

A comparison to the Corvette Z06 was also made by Jason Cammisa. The Z06's flat-plane crank V-8 will certainly be anyone's choice when it comes to the soundtrack, but it does the quarter mile a tenth slower than the E-Ray at 10.5 seconds. Does this mean you should cancel your Z06 in favor of the E-Ray? Not quite. Past the quarter mile, the power produced by the E-Ray's front electric motors dramatically tapers off, and combined with the fact that it's also heavier, the Z06 will outrun the E-Ray when given a longer track.

What does this all mean? It just shows that the Corvette E-Ray, which has a starting price of $104,295 for the 1LZ coupe and $111,295 for the convertible, can keep up or even outperform Italian supercars that cost two to three times more. If this drag race has convinced you to get an electrified Corvette, then by all means head to your Chevy dealership that will probably give you a ridiculous markup for it.

From the Editor

NICC Editor: Preston Morgan

First, Nina and I wish to express our happiness and gratitude in seeing so many of our NICC friends when we were in the Rockford area last month. The car show was a huge success and the lunch at Old Chicago was everything I remember about the wonderful socializing during NICC events. We miss not being able to join you in your many events. The NICC is a great group of people who we think a lot about. We miss all of you and wish you a very fun and safe Independence Day.

Independence Day is celebrated every year on July 4th, no question about it. What if you were told that Independence Day ought to be celebrated on July 2nd! You would probably think that I have absorbed too much Florida sunshine through my thinning hair. The article below makes the argument for July 2nd being the real Independence Day. Not to break from tradition and to view the many fireworks displays in our area, we will celebrate Independence Day on July 4th.

The U.S. actually voted for its independence on July 2.

On July 3, 1776, John Adams wrote to his wife Abigail of how “[t]he Second Day of July 1776, will be the most memorable Epocha, in the History of America. ... It ought to be solemnized with Pomp and Parade, with Shews, Games, Sports, Guns, Bells, Bonfires and Illuminations from one End of this Continent to the other from this Time forward forever more.” It seems the founding father felt pretty strongly that July 2 would be recognized as the landmark date of this young nation’s founding. So why do Americans celebrate independence two days later?

Let’s back up to June of 1776, when the Second Continental Congress selected a Committee of Five — Adams, Roger Sherman, Robert Livingston, Benjamin Franklin, and Thomas Jefferson — to draft a statement of independence that severed the colonies from British rule. When the Jefferson-penned draft was presented to Congress, only nine of the 13 colonies favored independence. However, the delegates largely fell into line from that point, and on July 2, Congress formally approved the resolution that proclaimed the United States of America as an independent country. Following additional edits, the Declaration of Independence was completed, adopted, and sent for printing on July 4, and on August 2, the rank-and-file delegates began adding their signatures to an engrossed version of the document.

According to historian Pauline Maier, the idea of commemorating the anniversary of independence didn’t gain any traction in 1777 until it was too late to recognize the date of July 2. However, a pair of notable celebrations popped up on July 4 — fireworks in Boston, a military demonstration and more pyrotechnics in Philadelphia — setting forth an annual tradition that, as Adams otherwise correctly predicted, came to mark “the most memorable Epocha, in the History of America.”
